THE DSD FIX - SYSTEM

The DSD FIX framing system is the solution for your next project. Installation has never been so easy, saving you time and money.

At DSD, we have developed the “DSD FIX”, a multi-purpose framing system for our screen panels that can be manufactured to work in nearly all applications while maintaining beautiful, clean lines and strength. The DSD FIX system is available on all DSD products that would otherwise require a frame.

How does it work?

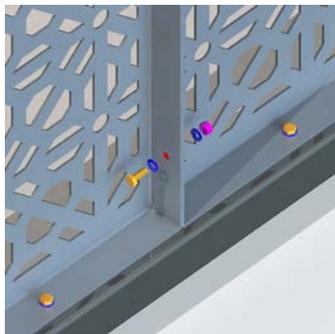

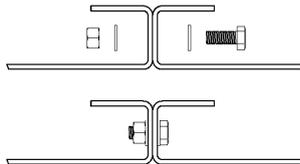

Our DSD FIX system works by utilising the sheet metal that the screen is cut from. We then fold the edges either once or twice. This makes a very strong frame that can be bolted together using the pre-cut holes.

Our method of manufacture is faster and much more cost effective than conventional fabricated box frames. The DSD FIX system allows you to cover larger spans simply by bolting panels together. This also saves you on installation time.

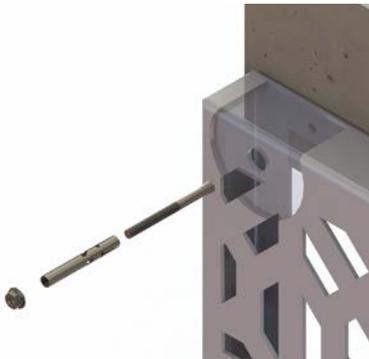

The DSD fix system is completely flexible with its modular design. If you want to add more screens later, simply bolt them on. If you want a double layered screen for more privacy, simply screw a flat panel to the existing panels. The possibilities are endless.

If you require additional framework, such as top and bottom post or uprights, we also have this covered. We can manufacture any additional metal work required to suit any project.

When you choose the DSD FIX system, all you need to do is simply bolt it together, fix it to your structure and enjoy the view.

IMAGE PERFORATED SCREENS

DSD's Image perf screens are all about the holes. The DSD Image Perf system provides an easy and flexible way to create the perfect design.

Using our unique design and punching process, we transfer your image into perforated metal panels. Each screen is designed and manufactured here in Australia to your exact specifications by our experienced team.

Customising your design is easy. Our team will work with you to modify the design for any number of applications, from perforated wall art screens, to custom entry gates or screens for ceilings and pergolas: At DSD, we have a solution for you.

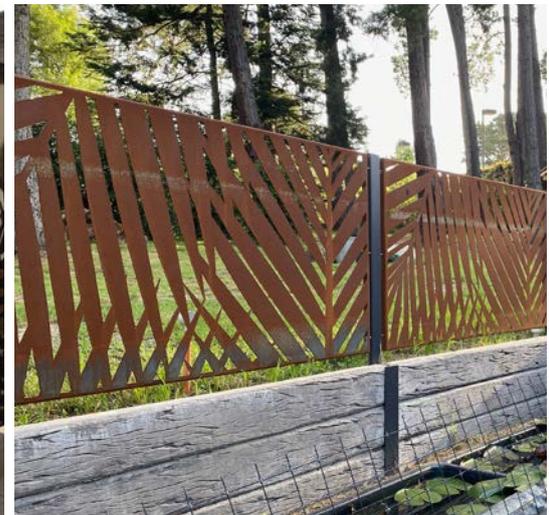

RUSTING STEEL

Corten steel is the perfect option if you are seeking a bespoke low-maintenance screen solution.

Corten steel or Weathering Steel, is made up of a group of steel alloy materials which when left uncoated and exposed to the natural elements develop a very distinguishable natural rust patina.

Corten is known for its superior corrosion resistance; this is because the surface of the steel forms a protective oxide layer when exposed to the weather. In other words, the steel is allowed to rust in order to protect itself. The protective surface layer continues to regenerate over years of exposure.
